

1918 PRIMARY IS HISTORY

Major Wins Over Hamlin, And Phillips Beats The Field For Collector.

The primary election last Tuesday will long be remembered through the free-for-all in the race for the Democratic nomination for county collector. There were seven contestants and all were sure, until the vote was counted, that the race would be to the swift—and, of course, each one thought he was some sprinter. But, the count proved some were not built for speed. However, all received some votes, and that probably is better than some others would have done had they been in the race. Folk Phillips of Aultville, came under the wire just a shade ahead of Judge Wright, with Messrs Hartman and Carter neck and neck, and Messrs Kuehls, Winn and Douglass following in order.

The race for the congressional nomination also had its interest. Congressman Hamlin was opposed by Sam C. Major of Fayette, who had raced with Mr. Hamlin two years ago. It was very close, so close in fact that neither candidate for a while knew whether he was coming or going. Mr. Major gained a substantial lead in his own county, Howard, that Mr. Hamlin was unable to over come. The contest was really decided by Mr. Hamlin's home county, Green, which Major carried by a small majority.

The returns are not complete, but enough precincts have been heard from to make certain the result. Following are figures up to date:

For Senator
Joseph W. Folk	1293
Xenophon P. Wilfley	1058
For Congressman

Death of Horatio S. Kinkead.

Horatio S. Kinkead, a highly respected citizen of this city, died Tuesday night at 9:15 o'clock at the home of his brother, James L. Kinkead, North Seventeenth street. Mr. Kinkead had been in poor health for some time and a great sufferer for the past several weeks, since he had been confined to his bed. Although given every attention by loving hands, these torrid days were more than his pain racked body could endure and death came as a great relief.

Mr. Kinkead was born in Kentucky, May 5, 1852. He came to Missouri with his parents when quite young and with the exception of several years spent in Mexico and Colorado, he had lived in Lafayette county. He had never married. He is survived by three brothers and two sisters, James L. Kinkead of this city, P. Q. Kinkead, who lives near Wellington, Reid Kinkead of Kansas City, Mrs. M. W. Albin of Independence, and Mrs. R. S. Percell of Shawnee, Okla.

The funeral services conducted by Rev. Baxter Waters, assisted by Rev. F. L. Burton, were held from the home yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Death of George Huddleston.

George Huddleston died Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at his home on North Seventeenth street. His death was due to complication of diphtheria.

Mr. Huddleston was born in Tennessee, April 4, 1865, and was 53 years old. He leaves a wife, three children, two brothers and one sister.

The funeral was held from the home this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Baxter Waters conducted the services.

Miss Freda Leeper went to Kansas City this morning for a two weeks' visit with her brother, August Leeper, Jr.

KEEP BREAD IN ICE BOX

Best Place for It in Summer Months, Food Administrator Says.

Keep your bread in the ice box. This is the advice of the Missouri Division of the United States Food Administration.

Keeping bread sweet and moist during the heated months of the summer presents a new problem to the housewife. The problem is more difficult than in years past, as the use of cereal substitutes in all forms of bread is now required. The scarcity of wheat at this time necessitates every once of bread giving its full nutritive service. And none can be wasted.

The National Baker's Service Board, after exhaustive experiments, has declared that the ice box is the best place for bread during the hot weather.

Wrap the loaf or any unused portion in clean wax paper and put it in the refrigerator. There it will remain in fresh condition longer than when kept in the air.

Careful wrapping will prevent it from coming in contact with any moisture and absorbing odors from food in the ice box.

Miraculous Escape From Injury.

Monday evening a car driven by L. B. Shelby ran over Mrs. Pat Shea at the corner of 11th and Main streets. When the car stopped Mrs. Shea was underneath the car and supposedly severely injured; but after she was gotten out, it was found that with the exception of a slight bruise on the forehead she was uninjured. The accident was one of those unaccountable affairs where luck was the predominant feature.

Leroy Farmer, Jr., Birdman.

Leroy Farmer, Jr., who has been receiving instruction in the various phases of aviation for the past several months, reports that he has passed all tests and has received his commission, and is now a full-fledged "birdman." Leroy, we wish you good luck.
